

Next MD/Pt Portal information

Next MD/Pt Portal is a secure website and a tool you can use to communicate with your provider and his/her care team

To login go to: www.nextmd.com

We have access to your individual user name but NOT your password; please feel free to call to receive that information.

Messages/requests sent before 1pm will be responded to before the end of day

Messages/requests sent after 1pm will be responded to the following day

Pt Portal is not meant to be used as an instant messenger, chat room, etc.

All messages sent will be attached to your actual health record, please do not send messages you do not deem appropriate to have documented in your chart

If message is in regards to your spouse or child please make sure you choose their name when composing a message, so it will be forwarded to the correct health record

Messages will be reviewed by your designated providers care team
